One of the most alarming yet underreported realities of the anti-Israel protests sweeping college campuses is that these activists don't just hate Israel—they despise the United States and the very foundations of our nation. At Temple University in Philadelphia, members of the extremist group Students for Justice in Palestine (SJP) were caught on a group chat openly admitting their ultimate goal: the destruction of America and capitalism itself. These radicals, emboldened by years of unchecked leftist indoctrination, now believe they are untouchable, brazenly declaring their seditious intentions in broad daylight.

During an April 24, 2025, webinar titled "Twisted Laws: Mumia, Universities & Palestine," Rishi Arun, president of SJP at Temple University, made their mission crystal clear: "It is our job to destroy imperialism, to destroy the United States [...] by organizing in a way that actively undermines and destabilizes the legitimacy and power of the state." Arun, a key organizer of the 2024 Pennsylvania State student encampment, left no doubt that these protests are not about peace or justice—they are about tearing down the greatest nation on Earth.

Even more chilling were the words of Mohammed Khatib, Europe coordinator of Samidoun Palestinian Prisoner Solidarity Network—a U.S.- and Canada-designated terror organization. Khatib explicitly linked the so-called "liberation of Palestine" to the downfall of America, stating: "If Palestine is liberated, this means this is a nail to dismantle the United States of America." This is not activism; it is a direct threat to our sovereignty, our way of life, and the principles that have made America a beacon of freedom.

The liberal media, of course, refuses to expose this extremism. Instead, they glorify these radicals as "brave protesters," whitewashing their dangerous agenda while smearing conservatives and patriots as "fascists." Where is the outrage from CNN, MSNBC, or The New York Times? Silent, as always, when the truth doesn't fit their narrative.

President Donald Trump, however, has never been afraid to call out these threats. His unwavering commitment to law and order, patriotism, and American sovereignty stands in stark contrast to the weak-kneed appeasement of the left. While Democrats coddle these anti-American agitators, Trump has consistently fought to defend our nation from those who seek its destruction.
